DUBAI, UAE, Dec. 6, 2021 /PRNewswire/ — Swvl Inc. (“Swvl” or the “Company”), a global provider of transformative tech-enabled mass transit solutions, today announced that upon the completion of its proposed business combination with Queen’s Gambit Growth Capital (“Queen’s Gambit”) (NASDAQ: GMBT), the combined public company will appoint W. Steve Albrecht to its Board of Directors (the “Board”) to serve as an independent director and chair of the combined public company’s audit committee. Mr. Albrecht is a certified public accountant (CPA), certified internal auditor (CIA) and certified fraud examiner (CFE). His addition to the Board builds on Swvl’s prior appointment of three highly accomplished women and technology leaders – Victoria Grace, Lone Fønss Schröder and Esther Dyson.

Mostafa Kandil, Swvl Founder and CEO, said, “We are building a world class board of directors and I’m pleased to welcome Steve to our organization. As a director and the chair of our Board’s audit committee, Steve will play an integral role in advancing Swvl’s corporate governance practices and helping us to execute on our growth plans, within existing markets and new geographies. Steve brings deep expertise across finance, international accounting and regulatory compliance. He will be an essential member of the Swvl team, and we will draw on his vast experience as we create tremendous value for all of Swvl’s stakeholders.”

“I very much look forward to joining the Board, working alongside the impressive team that has already been assembled, including my fellow Board members Mostafa, Victoria, Lone and Esther, each of whom are distinguished technology investors and experts,” said Steve Albrecht. “I was particularly drawn to Swvl given its compelling mission of providing sustainable mass transit solutions to underserved individuals and communities. The social and financial cost imposed by a lack of mass transit solutions is staggering. Having already established a leadership position in key emerging markets, I believe that Swvl is ready to capitalize on a truly global market opportunity.”

Youssef Salem, Swvl CFO, said, “We are honored to welcome Steve to Swvl. Steve was previously named one of the top 50 Corporate Directors in America by the National Association of Corporate Directors, demonstrating the strength of the Board and the combined public company’s governance. Steve has a combined 90 years of serving as audit committee chair on different boards of directors. His extraordinary career as a business partner, educator and expert witness led to him being recognized five times as one of the 100 most influential accounting professionals in the United States by Accounting Today magazine. As a board member, he has also been involved in the acquisition and sale of numerous companies and has been instrumental in taking two companies public. He will add significant value in this area where we continue to pursue M&A and capital markets initiatives to further enhance shareholder value.”

Victoria Grace, Founder and CEO of Queen’s Gambit Growth Capital, said, “The Swvl team has done a superb job of compiling a world class Board of Directors with deep expertise in technology, mobility, ESG and public company leadership. Since announcing the transaction with Queens Gambit several months ago, Swvl has effectively executed against every element of its business strategy, with strong performance across its current geographies, while capitalizing on compelling new market opportunities in Europe and South America. Swvl is creating tremendous value for all stakeholders as it transforms mass transit, bringing the power of mobility to underserved communities. The market opportunity is tremendous and Swvl is uniquely positioned from a technological, financial and operational basis.”
